SMETHPORT WINS TROPHY AT LEGION CONVENTION

The fourth annual American Legion County Convention was held at Bradford July 11 and 12. The convention was under the auspices of the Bradford Post and the event proved a great success.

The track meet is of special interest to Smethport people since it was the last of a series of four meets.

Any Post in the County is permitted to take part in the contest. The reward is a silver cup.

The events scheduled between Bradford and Smthport consisted of 100 yard dash, 100 yard hurdle, pole vault and shot-put. The Smethport men showed surprising speed and stamina and easily carried off the laurels.

The trophy which is a silver cup was presented to the Smethport Post by the Hamlin Bank & Trust Co., in 1920. It was won three times by Smethport and once by Kane in 1920. By virtue of the recent contest the cup now becomes the permanent possession of the local Post.

Next years convention will be held at Mt. Jewett, and judging from the enthusiasm displayed in Bradford last week an even larger crowd is expected to attend the 1924 convention.

The Smethport Band and the Bradford Six played for the Military parade which was an important feature of Wednesday's program.

The representatives of Smethport were W. A. Ostrander, A. M. Anderson, Alex J. Barbour, H. L. Heilman, and Roy Engstrom.

MRS. A. G. ABBEY STRICKEN BY PARALYSIS.

On Monday evening as she was sitting on the porch at her home Mrs. A. G. Abbey was suddenly stricken by a paralytic stroke. She was taken into the house and medical aid was summoned and although she is in very serious condition at present, Doctor Ostrander the attending physician holds high hopes for her recovery.

Mrs. Abbey is a well known and highly respected women in this community and her many friends and acquaintances are very anxious concerning her condition. Mrs. Claude Green of Williamsport, Mrs Abbey's daughter, is here with her mother.

STARKS FAMILY REUNION HELD SUNDAY IN CYCLONE

The Starks family to the number of 111 held their annual family reunion and picnic Sunday July 15th, at the home of Mrs. Chas. Davis of Cyclone. All of those present were direct descendants of Lyman and Mary Stark.

The day was very delightfully spent in the Davis grove near the house, and a bonteous picnic dinner was held in the shade of the trees. An exciting ball game furnished much amusement for all present.

Smethport people who attended the picnic were: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Milroy, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dodge and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milroy, and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gallup and two children, Rufus and Cecil Reynolds, Rev. W. E. VanDyke and three children, Miss Carrie McGowan, Mrs. R. A. Woods and two children of Sharpsville, Mrs. Leon Valentine and daughter of Philadelphia, Bradford, Colegrove, Aiken, Derrick city and Port Allegany were also represented.

The next meeting will be held at Galco Park the third Sunday in July 1924.

KING VERSUS JOHNNY

Sunday afternoon the peaceful atmosphere which hovers over West Main street was violently distrib-ed by the appearance of a wild and wooly woodchuck, who becoming annoyed at the increasing mob, betook himself into the tile under Chas. Masser's sidewalk. Meanwhile a large crowd had gathered to view one of the most brilliant episodes of the season and in the history of this antiquated village. First fish poles were thrust through the tile but to no avail, soon some one conceived the idea of putting cotton saturated with amonia on the end of a stick.

This idea was acted upon but at first was not successful. In the interim "King" the highly pedigreed dog of one of the attendents at the glorious galaxy was tearing up the turf and trying to crowd into the tile. Some one ran for a hose but just then out came Johnny chuck, and King immediately had hysterics and made a grab for him but Johnny showed fight and then the tussle ensued. The noise made by the contestants and the audience would have Bedlam look like a back number. Finnally after much ado, King collared him and made him shake a shimmy for he shook the life out of him. He now rests with his fathers, tranquilly on the bosom of mother earth behind Chas Masser's garage.

YOUNG-LEWIS.

The marriage of Miss Marion Young daughter of Mrs Jane D. Young to Lamont C. Lewis of Buffalo was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother Saturday noon in the presence of the immediate relatives. Rev. W. E. Van Dyke of St. Luke's Episcopal church performed the ceremony. The house was attractively decorated with wild flowers.

The bride was attired in a handsome dress of accordion pleated grey georgette crepe trimmd with grey lace and carried yellow roses. Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served, after which the bride and groom left on a motor trip to Montauk, Long Island.

The bride is one of Smethport's widely known young women, a graduate of Smethport High school and of Hearst's Business College of Buffalo. For the past few years she has held a responsible position with the Stewart Service Company of Buffalo. The groom is engaged in business with an uncle in Buffalo where they will reside.

Those in attendance at the wedding from away were Mrs. Marion Pierce, Ripley, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Homewood, Harbor Creek, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pierce and the Misses Dorothy and Monica Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and Miss Ella Young of Buffalo.

The Miner with a host of friends extends its best wishes for the future.

BARN BURNS AT COLEVILLE.

Tuesday afternoon between 4:00 and 5:00 o'clock the large barn owned by J. L. Yerdon of Bradford was found to be on fire. Mr. Yerdon made the discovery himself and rushing into the barn he climbed into the hay loft where he found the four year old child of a neighbor, standing in the midst of the burning hay. Mr. Yerdon seized the child and rushed out. By the time he reached the door the whole interior of the barn was a mass of seething flames.

The barn was filled with fresh cut hay which had just been brought in. All the farm machinery $250.00 worth of paint, and a new Nash car which was owned by a Mr. Reck, were destroyed. The O. B. Moore residence across the road was very badly scorched and the windows broken. The roof caught fire several times and all that saved this house were the heroic efforts of the neighbors who are greatly commended for their good work. All the furniture was removed from the house.

The child afterwards said he had been playing with matches which he had taken from the kitcen cabinet at home. He certainly very nearly caused his own destruction.

Will be at the polling places from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. on July 17 and 18 for purpose of registering and affiliating voters for fall primaries and election. Mrs. Wade Burdick,

Assessor.

BAGGAGE DELAYED BY BROKEN TRUCK.

A delay and change was made necessary this morning in the transportation of the baggage and supplies for the Girl Scouts going to camp on Lake Chautauqua, due to a broken cylinder in the truck of A. J. Bond, which he donated to the scouts for the purpose, and which left the armory, loaded, at about 9:30 this morning. The accident occurred at the foot of the hill just this side of the big reservoir No. 3 on Marilla Brook. When the word reached Bradford, Earl Emery immediately provided their speedy big Packard truck of the Emery Manufacturing company, to which the luggage and supplies were transferred from Mr. Bond's truck and at 1:10 proceeded from the scene of the delay for Camp Mason at Dewittville, Lake Chautauqua, and should reach the camp before 5 p. m., helping the Girl Scouts out splendidly.—Star July 16.

MRS. SAM COX INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR GALETON.

Mrs. Sam Cox of Bank street had her collar bone broken Monday afternoon when their Studebaker car driven by her son Bruce, overturned on a sandy stretch of road near Galeton, breaking a wheel and throwing the members of the Cox family into the road.

She was taken into a nearby farm house for treatment and later removed to the Galeton hospital where she is being cared for at present. The other members of the party consisting of three younger children received minor bruises.

The family was on its way to visit Mrs. Cox's relatives at Nordmont, Pa., and had gotten as far as Galeton when the unfortunate accident occurred.

Mr Cox was seriously burned in the explosion at the Acetone plant last fall. The family seems to be having more than its share of ill luck.

NEAR ACCIDENT AVERTED.

Yesterday at about four o'clock the New Buick Coupe of Miss Lucile Marshall nearly ran amuck. Miss Marshall and her mother, Mrs. W. A. Ostrander, were preparing to take a drive when just as they reached the front door the car which was parked next to the house started down the hill. Miss Marshall made a dash for it but didn't get in it until it had crossed the road, a ditch and missed a large tree and the mail box by but a few inches, and was headed toward Col. Allens front porch. She managed to put on the brakes and stopped the car. No damage was done the car which is very fortunate, however Miss Marshall deserves much credit for her ability in stopping the runaway.

The brake had been on but had not clinched and it had slipped.

MR. AND MRS. HAMLIN ENTERTAIN AT THOUSAND ISLANDS.

Among the guests who expect to motor there Thursday are ;Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Redfield, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Radfield Mr.and Mrs. W.S. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mc Coy of this place, and Dr. and Mrs. Sam Larned, and Dr. and Mrs. Dan Lubyof Syracuse,N.Y.

INSANE MAN TAKEN TO WARREN TUESDAY

Thomas McGuire, a middle aged man, who was found last Thursday wandering around Green street without shoes, and who was taken to the county jail, has been pronounced insane and taken to the asylum at Warren, Pa., Tuesday. Roy Engstrom and county Detective Allison had charge of him.

Mr. McGuire has been working at Coryville for the past two or three months. He was injured last October at Hutchins, when a heavy door fell on his head, and has acted strangely since then. He has run away from home several times and finally his condition became so serious that the measure stated above became necessary.

The afflicted man has two brothers, one in Eldred, and one in Hutchins and two sisters in Eldred.

NO HOBO, INDEED

It is said that the peaceful inhabitants of Irons Hollow have for the last week, been aroused from their slumbers by the barking of their trusty watchdogs and someone rattling their front door knobs. In fact one of the disturbed slumberers, on rushing to his casement perceived a scantly garbed man cross the yard.

He called lustily to his alarmed frau that it was nothing but a hobo.

To this the visitor replied with emphatic remarks to the contrary and moved away with great dignity and a blanket purloined from a couch on the veranda. This last was not discovered until the next day.

Early next morning one of the neighbors found the erratic individual, swathed in the blanket and sleeping calmly in a childs tent near the house.

The discoverer called up his nearest neighbor who happened to be the one from whom the blanket was borrowed. He hastily appeared and seizing the blanket with a jerk he wrested the poor creature from its enveloping folds and from the gentle arms of Morpheus. The audience then invited him emphatically to hit the highway, which advice he immediately followed.

This same person was picked up near the county jail. This is more fully related in another column of this issue.

HORN-CURRAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Horn of New York City announce the engagement of their daughter Eleanor Rita to Richard Melville Curran of Smethport, Pa., the marriage to take place Saturday, July 21st at 9:00 o'clock a. m. at St. Jerome's church, 138th street and Alexander Avenue, New York.

Mr. Curran is a graduate of the Smethport High School and for the last two years has occupied a responsible position as draftsman with the Rogers and Hagerty contracting Co. of New York.

After a wedding trip the couple will reside in New York. The Miner extends its hearty congratulations to the young couple.

Mr. P. S. Curran, father of the groom will attend the wedding.

NO EXTRA TAXATION IF BORO BUYS WATER WORKS

The committee, consisting of John Lindholm, Thos Morrison, Ray Abbey, and T. F. Hungiville, appointed to look into the proposition of the Boro buying the Water plant, met Wednesday evening, and thoroughly discussed the matter. Councilman John Lindholm has found only one person from about two hundred interviewed, who disapproved of the purchase. The sentiment of the town in favor of it, seems to be almost unanimous.

The plan suggested is to issue bonds for the purchase of the plant, the revenue from the plant gradually paying off the bonds, so there will be no extra taxation.

The Boro incurs no indebtedness by the purchase, as the risk is on the plant itself.

This seems to have been the point that bothered many, but if there is no increased tax, it does away with all difficulties.

When these bonds are paid off the Boro will have a good income from its investment.

GIRL SCOUTS LEAVE MONDAY FOR OUTING AT CHAUTAUQUA.

Monday morning at 8:00 o'clock the Smethport Girl Scouts, to the number of fifteen, assembled at St. Luke's parish house, where cars which had been loaned for the trip, were awaiting them, and proceeded to Bradford, where they joined the Bradford scouts on their journey to camp Mason, at Dewittville on Chautauqua lake, where they will camp for two weeks. Mrs. C. A. Freeman, a registered nurse accompanied the young girls, and also a dietition, Miss Helen Weaver.

Those driving cars were: Redfield Gillett, John Wallace, M. M. Pomeroy, Lester Taylor and Robert Redfield. H. H. Redfield provided a car for the luggage. The total number of scouts is fifty two, the names are as follows:

REW CITY CAR GRAZES COLEGROVE TRUCK.

Last Thursday afternoon about 4:30 as Glen Mencer was leaving the Colegrove grocery with the truck, a Chevrolet car driven by a lady from Rew City and going up West Main street attempted to pass between the truck and a car parked in front of the Globe grocery. In doing so the Chevrolet car ran against the truck, but Mencer perceiving the danger swung his truck as far as possible to one side and no damage was done.

BIG TRUCK TURNS TURTLE NEAR PENNA R. R. CROSSING

Saturday afternoon about 4:30 as two big trucks attempted to pass each other near the Pennsylvania rail road crossing on the Larabee flats, one of them from Brockway, enroute to Kane, and heavily loaded with fruit, edged too far to one side where there was a dense growth of weeds, and supposedly solid ground, and suddenly dropped down ten feet and turned over.

The occupants of the truck, a crippled man and two women, miraculously escaped without injuries, and soon after were seen by passing motorists, calmly selling fruit as if nothing had happened.

The truck was not damaged.

SPARK'S CIRCUS TO BE IN KANE ON FRIDAY JULY 27.

Friday July 27, afternoon and evening under huge masses of canvas, the finest circus ever made by the ingenuity and courage of men, will parade and show in Kane on July 27 to make the young folks happy and the old folks young. The great parade is on Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock. First of all, a real wild animal circus is a 1923 acquisition, having been imported from the world's greatest wild animal training quarters at Stellingshen, Germany. Included in these displays will be found lions, tigers leopards, polar and grizzly bears—even trained ostriches will be seen in addition to the Spark's group of sixteen "Rotation" horses, the two elephant herds, fancy gaited and and posing horses, the Bibbb County Pig Circus, Captain Tiebor's seals, and hosts of others of a novel nature. The circus proper opens with an elaborate staged spectacle, "Echoes from the Reign of King Tut," in which all of the animals, performers, premier dancers and a large chorus participate. As a fitting finish to the all-feature performance, a genuine English Fox-Hunt, introducing real Irish-bred high jumpers, broad jumpers and perfectly schooled fox-hounds, will replace the old-time and very dangerous chariot races usually to be found with other circuses. DON'T FORGET THE DATE, KANE, Friday, July 27. This will be the only big circus to play Kane this season.

"THE ONLY TREE" CLIMBING CAR.

Monday the farfamed Joseph car (not Henry) of Louis Steinhauer, when out with its master for a little exercise and training proceeded calmly on its way to Smethport village for slight repairs on its left tin ear. At the McCoy corners Joseph knew not whither to turn and didn't understand his masters manouvers, followed his own course which was over a ravine and up a large locust tree which very thoughtlessly stood in the way. Joseph tried to scale its heights but he needed a manicure and failed. Louis says he will in the near future take him to a meadow of moderate size and teach him to turn corners. Now Joseph has an additional title "The only tree climbing car."

A VISIT A YEAR ADDS TWENTY TO LIFE.

Would we all live twenty years longer if we went to a doctor at least once a year for a thorough physical examination? Some may think we would live twenty years less. The healthiest people are not those who are fussing about their heath all the time. A reckless disregard of the rule of common sense will bring its own penalty, of course; but there is such a thing as over-anxiety in the care of the body. Many a man has made himself an invalid by the sheer power of imagination.

The National Health Council, another of those organizations for minding everybody's business, has begun a campaign in behalf of this annual examination, and the Public Health Service has endorsed the idea. "A peep into the future," is the way that body puts it. This seems to impose upon the doctor the role of prophet, one in which he is often unsuccessful. No one denies that disease may be best checked in its earliest stages, when the victim is hardly aware that he has it. "It's the hidden things that weaken your organs without your knowing it," we are told, "till the test comes and you find yourself defenseless." All very true—sometimes. But nature has her own curative powers, and we might be better off if we went to her oftener for advice.

Still, it's perfectly wonderful to think how easily living twenty years longer really is. We do not know what may be the contemplated strategy of the National Health Council's campaign, but we should think that an appeal to Congress to pass a law requiring the yearly visit would be a part of it. Or why not an amendment to the Constitution? Then, if the experiment failed, we should have to keep on trying it just the same, thus disciplining our rebellious bodies and serving the health of our souls—not forgetting the fact that it would be a good thing for the doctors.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

ROBBERS MAKE TWO ATTEMPTS TO ENTER CHILDREN'S HOME

The police force of Bradford was engaged Saturday night in scouring the woods near the McKean County Children's Home, for robbers.

About midnight the matron informed the police that some one was trying to open a window of the institution. A thorough search was made for the yeggs who were said to be concealed in a camp near the Home. No trace of the place or men was found. Another attempt was made on the same night and some one succeeded in gaining an entrance through the attic window, nothing valuable was taken, however.

It is rumored that an Italian, whose child is an inmate at the home is attempting to get the child Although this theory may be true, yet it is not probable that the man would rob the house, but only take his child.

THAT SAVING NAIL.

The negro sexton of a little church in the South got up on the roof and replaced some broken shingles.

He didn't like to acknowledge that the steep slant of the roof alarmed him, so he climbed up toward the broken spot.

A passer-by called out, "Hello, Sam! Looks like it's ticklish work for you, climbin' toward heaven-"

Sam relaxed his caution for an instant, and started to slide down the roof—

Loud and fervently he was heard to cry: "Oh, Lawd! Save dis niggah! Lawd—Lawd, save dis nig—Nebber mine, Lawd! My bretches done kotch on a nail-" I.K.

WITH THE FUNNY MEN

FAIR ENOUGH

"But, your honor," protested the speeder who had just received a jail sentence, "you don't realize that my time is worth money."

"Oh, indeed!" said the judge. "Well, if you can produce a single citizen who doesn't consider that his life is more valuable to him than your time is to you I'll let you off with a nominal fine."

That New Slogan.

"Say," objected the regimental chronic kicker, poking his nose inside the supply sergeant's shack, "this hat's too small for me. Every time I laugh it slides off my head."

"Here's one two sizes larger," remarked the surge pleasantly. "Try and laugh that off."—American Legion Weekly.

Another Kind.

"What's that young man you roomed with in college doing now?"

"Oh, he's making a living with a hand organ."

"A hand organ! Gee whiz!"

"Yes, he's running a very successful manicure journal."

Out of Tune.

Mrs. Jones—Miss Screecher is to sing over the radio tonight. Shall I tune in.

Mr. Jones—I think it will be impossible to get her in tune, my dear—we worked an hour trying to do it last night.

Strong Reason for Truth.

May—What made you tell Judge De Vourscourt you married Dick for his money?

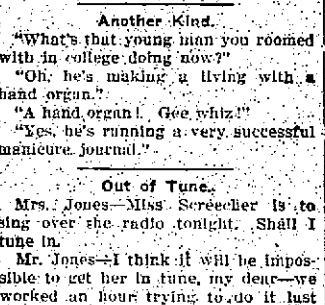
Fay—Well, he asked me why I did it, and I knew he was constitutionally opposed to insanity pleas.—Toronto Goblin.

Bulls and Bull.

Live Stock Enthusiast—What is the oldest bull you have heard of being used?

Modern City Man—That theory that two can live as cheaply as one is about the oldest I have ever heard anyone use.—Farm Life.

NOT WHOLLY A LOSS



She—If you were to lose me, darling, would it break your heart?

He—Yes, dearest; but my bank account would mend.

Too Many Slackers.

I'm sure the world
Would soon take heart
If every man
Would do his part.

Dimples Enough Herself.

"No, dear, mother can't make any waffles, for she hasn't any waffle iron."

"Oh, I don't care if they don't have any dimples in 'em," replied five-year-old Bessie.

Unhitching the Wagon.

Tramp—When I was young I made up my mind to be rich.

Lady—But you never became rich?

Tramp—No, mum. I found it easier to change my mind.—American Legion Weekly.

Once Is Enough.

"Say, old man, don't you wish you had your youth to live over again?"

"I should say not; I have a twenty-year endowment coming due next week."—Pathfinder.

The Young Couple.

"We both agree that we should economize."

"True."

"The next question is on what—cigars or silk stockings?"

Identified.

"You say Jeffs has grown whiskers since you saw him last? How did you recognize him?"

"By my umbrella."

Heard on the Campus.

First Undergraduate—Get any mail today, Jack?

Second Ditto—Naw, not a cent.—Johns Hopkins Black and Blue Jay.

The Difficulty.

"Is bridge whist a difficult game to learn?"

"It is, if you wish to learn to play it well enough to suit your partner."

Shopping.

"I fear this gown is a little too gay for your daughter."

"I want it for myself."

SPEED IN A TIN CAN

The professor was trying to demonstrate a simple experiment in the generation of steam.

"What have I in my hand?" he asked.

"A tin can," came the answer.

"Very true. Is the can an animate or inanimate object?"

"Inanimate."

"Exactly. Now, can any little boy or girl tell me how, with this tin can, it is possible to generate a surprising amount of speed and power almost beyond control?"

One little boy raised his right hand.

"You may answer, Carter."

"Tie it to a dog's tail!"

Doubly Handicapped.

"Lend me a dollar, Si."

"How's that?"

"I say, lend me a dollar."

"Can't hear a word you say."

"Wait a minute an' I'll write it down."

"Tain't no use. Can't see without my glasses."

Cat Killed by the Milkman.

Little Girl (to milkman)—My mother's in an awful state this morning about the cat. It died last night.

"Oh, dear, that's a pity! What did it die of?"

Little Girl—It died of water on the brain after drinking a plateful of your milk.

Looking Ahead.

"Are you going to invite the doctor to your party, dear?"

"No, mamma."

"Why not?"

"Cause I don't want him here too often. We'll probably have him here the next day."

HUMAN NATURE

"Which do you prefer, the mountains or the seashore?"

"I prefer the seashore when I'm at the mountains, and the mountains when I'm at the seashore."

Why Dad Was Mad.

What is home without a mother?
Dad is mad as fury;
He has had no lunch today—
Mother's on the jury.

Changed Name to Suit.

"What did you name your baby, old man?"

"Why, at first she was so good and quiet we called her 'Serena.'"

"How do you mean at 'first'?"

"Well, since she began crying all night with teething we changed her name to 'Tuscarora.'"

Was Better Off Single.

Ex-stenographer—I made the mistake of my life when I married my employer.

Sympathetic Friend—How's that?

Ex-steno.—Before we were married he used to pay me $30 a week and now he doesn't even pay me compliments.

His Trouble.

Dumb—My, but Frank is getting round-shouldered.

Bell—Too much study, I guess.

"Study nothing! The trouble with him is that he's been kissing too many short girls."—Princeton Tiger.

Who Does?

Flabson—The trouble with most advertisements is that they are not true to life. Some of these pictures give me a pain.

Crabson—Yes, if I would try to grin while shaving I would cut myself.

WHY MENTION IT?

Little Jane—Mother, why did you tell me not to say anything about Mr. Baldwin's hair?

Mother—Sh!

Little Jane—'Cause he ain't got any hair to talk about.

To Those Who Talk.

To those who talk and talk and talk
This proverb should appeal:
"The steam that blows the whistle
Will never turn the wheel."

Hoarse Voice.

Wife—How do you like the new gown? It's the last word from Europe.

Hubbie—Well, from appearances, they must be dumb in that country.

Her Game.

He—I wonder how it is a girl can't catch a ball like a man.

She—Oh, a man is so much bigger and easier to catch.

Taking a New Start.

"Flossie and Dick have patched up their quarrel, I hear."

"Not for long! they are marrying shortly."

Keen for Clothes.

"All the world's a stage."

"Still, my dear, I wish you would modify your idea that life is a continuous dress rehearsal."

DAIRY FACTS

WAGE WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

Besides Organized Forces There Are Thousands of Accredited Veterinarians Helping.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Tuberculosis of live stock is being attacked on all sides. In addition to the large force of federal, state and county veterinarians engaged in the nation-wide campaign for eradicating this disease, there are thousands of accredited veterinarians assisting with the work. Records of the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, show that on March 1, 1923, there were 5,120 accredited veterinarians in the United States. As accredited herds are established the various states turn them over to accredited veterinarians, who test them annually at the expense of the owner. This permits county, state and federal veterinarians to devote all their time to herds that have not been accredited.

The federal government keeps in close touch with the accredited veterinarians and furnishes them every few months with information regarding the disease and any unusual conditions that may be encountered in the herds under supervision.

The tuberculosis-free accredited herd list is increasing very rapidly. The report of the bureau of animal industry just published shows that on March 1, 1923, there were 24,132 fully accredited herds, 260,034 once-tested free herds, and 332,887 herds under supervision.

MUDDY BARN LOT IS COSTLY

Additional Work Heaped on Dairyman Every Way He Turns—Clean Stable Pays Best.

A poorly drained barnyard costs the dairyman more money than he imagines. In some cases, no doubt, it costs him more than the laying of the necessary tile through which to keep it dry. It means additional work for him pretty nearly every way he turns—dirty cows, dirty stables and an extra physical effort on his own part in the matter of going about his chores with mud-caked boots. If he sells his milk locally from house to house, he probably loses many a customer who associates thoughts of the general appearance of the barn and its surroundings with the milk which is being delivered to his home. Clean environment in the case of a dairy barn offers a telling argument, in an advertising way, for the milk produced amid these surroundings.

COW TESTING IS IMPORTANT

Record Showing High Production of Animal Greatly Increases Price of Bull Calf.

A farmer sold a male calf for $35. Later its dam was tested for advanced registry. When the yearly record was completed it was found that the cow produced over 22,000 pounds of milk and 681 pounds of butter. Her next bull calf was sold for $300. This indicates in a concrete way something of the value of testing dairy cows.

Production of Cows.

Average production of dairy cows in the United States is 3,412 pounds of milk per cow per year. In Holland it is 7,585 pounds; Switzerland, 6,950 pounds, and Denmark, 5,660 pounds.

DAIRY NOTES

Nobody cries when a scrub bull dies.

* * *

Don't keep cows. Make cows keep you.

* * *

Good cream is clean cream, kept cool.

* * *

Tuberculosis is a community problem.

* * *

Fall calving usually gives best results.

* * *

The dairy cow, like a human being, enjoys sunshine.

* * *

The most successful dairymen raise most of their cows.

* * *

Milk from infected cows or from a creamery should be pasteurized before it is fed.

* * *

Milk substitutes are not equal to milk, but give fair results when used with care.

* * *

Creameries prefer the rich cream, as they can use it more easily and efficiently.

* * *

All calves should be fed regularly; very young calves should be fed three times a day.

* * *

The dairyman who produces and sells a low grade of cream is nipping profits in the bud.

* * *

Young dairy stock should have all the hay they will eat, and grain in proportion to weight.

* * *

"Keep the milk cool and the utensils clean." This applies as well in winter as in summer.

LIGHTNING KILLS MAN WHILE SIX CHILDREN ESCAPE

Ridgway, Pa., July 12.—Isadore Gschwendtner, aged 60 years, was struck by lightning and instantly killed about 4:30 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, while seeking shelter from the storm in a barn on the Gschwendtner farm about a mile from Kylers Corners on the road to Five Point. This farm is located about eleven miles from Ridgway. The barn did not become ignited and there was little damage to the structure. Another barn on the farm about a quarter of a mile away was ignited by lightning and entirely consumed.

According to information reaching Ridgway, Gschwendtner sought refuge in the barn from the heavy thunder storm. With him were six children, three belonging to Mrs. Louis Gschwendtner and three others from the immediate neighborhood. Gswendtner was sitting near the middle post of the barn that was the main support of the entire building, while the children were gathered in the opposite end. The bolt of lightning struck a post a few feet from him, ran along the floor striking Gschwendtner. The children were shocked but not injured.

FIRES CAUSE HEAVY LOSES

Coudersport, July 13.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the grocery of J. F. Watson in Sweden Wednesday. The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and the lack of water fighting facilities handicapped the saving of any part of the building or its contents. Mr. Watson has conducted a store here for a number of years and a year ago moved into the present location.

Fire Wednesday destroyed the large farm house of W. H. Harris of Grover Hollow near Genesee. The fire originated in the upper floors and it is thought to have been caused from a defective flue. Only a few pieces of furniture downstairs were saved. Mr. Harris lost a large barn by fire about a year and a half ago.

SIX MEN INJURED WHEN TRUCK GOES DOWN BANK

Ludlow, July 12.—Six employes of the Pennsylvania Gas Company were buried under a huge White truck, when it went over a five foot embankment, here late yesterday afternoon and it is little short of miraculous that none was killed or seriously injured.

Two young men, Wilmer Miller and Daniel Blair, both of Seigel, received minor injuries that kept them from returning to their work today and the four others suffered from bruises. Miller had one of his knees severely cut and Blair's injuries while of an internal nature, are not believed to have been serious.

The workmen were returning to Ludlow from Byrontown, Forest County, where they had been working during the day. They were driving on the public highway nad as they approached the embankment, near Curtis Brothers' tannery the huge machine skidded and the driver lost control. It went off the side of the road and upset, burying all of the riders under it. Fortunately the truck did not land squarely on any of them and all managed to crawl from under.

TWO LYNX ARE TERRORIZING COUNTRYSIDE

Erie, Pa., July 13.—Two Canadian lynx believed to have escaped from a circus train wrecked at Tidioute, Pa., two weeks ago, are terrorizing the countryside near Lake Pleasant, 16 miles south of Erie. Last night 25 chickens belonging to Albert Sellneck a Lake Pleasant farmer, were killed while a bulldog that had been sent in pursuit, was also mutilated and killed.

Women and children of the farms near Lake Pleasant today begged husbands and fathers to stay with them, fearing that the escaped beasts might visit them during their absence in the fields.

A lynx hunt was made last night, Major William Spencer of the Erie battalion of the Pennsylvania National Guard, volunteered the use of several marksmen and German police dogs to go on a hunt for the animals. Up to a late hour no trace of the animals was found. Several farmers have seen the animals, they say.

BEAR CLIMBS INTO AN AUTO IN POTTER COUNTY.

Coudersport, July 16—Ward Casebeer, who resides not far from Hulls, had an experience a few evenings ago that will remain in his memory while life lasts. He was just above Wharton when a big black bear climbed on his car. He was at a loss to account for her action and his hair stood on end. For some little distance she was a passenger greatly to the astonishment of the driver of the car. As evidence of the truth of the tale the marks on the hood and fender are the best witnesses. The theory is that the car passed between the bear and her cubs and that her mother instinct drove her toward protecting her offspring. To have a bear race alongside of your auto, growling and showing its teeth, is no fun.

WIFE TELLS A SAD STORY OF DESERTION.

Mrs. Joseph Astromovich, a Polish woman of James City, called at The Republican office late yesterday afternoon and told a pathetic story of husband desertion and the taking of her children. The woman said that her husband worked in the American Plate glass plant at James City and that about a year ago he purchased a farm just out of Hazelhurst on the Marvin creek road.

There is no house on the farm and last winter a one room shack was used by her husband on his visits to the farm and has continued to be the living quarters there. Astromovich has twelve head of cattle on the place and has also cultivated and planted some of the fields.

The woman said that yesterday morning she accompanied her husband from James City to the farm, taking with them their two children, Walter, aged three years, and Stanley, 11 months old. When they reached the farm in her husband's car he told her to get out and go down across the lots and see what condition the cattle were in. While she was gone he departed taking the children with him, despite the fact that Stanley is a nursing baby who greatly needs his mother.

Mrs. Astomovich is sure that her husband has run away from her, because while they have lived together in perfect harmony for the past four years, recently a disagreement arose because the wife would not compell Amelia and May, aged 16 and 14 years two of her five children by a former marriage to stay at the shack on the farm and look after the cattle. She said the girls were afraid to stay there alone although the younger one stayed there for some time last winter under the eyes of the neighbors.

Th woman said that her husband took $200 which the couple had saved when he fled with the children. She has notified the police and a search is being made for the man and children. The woman was in a deplorable condition from worry when she visited this office yesterday. The couple came to James City from Lowell, Mass., four years ago.—Kane Republican, July 13.

BADLY CUT WHEN CAR GOES OVER BANK.

Norman Wise, a salesman of Buffalo, was injured yesterday afternoon while driving a Dodge car between Mt. Jewett and Kushequa, Mr. Wise lost control of the car which left the road and went down the embankment about eight feet and struck a cherry tree completely splitting the tree. Dr. E. C. Cleveland of Mt. Jewett attended the man's injuries and it required 14 stitches to close a wound above the eyebrow, a splinter one inch long was removed from the wound. Mr. Wise in spite of his injuries was able to return to his home in Buffalo by rail.—Republican, July 16.

PINCHOT DRAWS ON OWN ACCOUNT TO PAY EMPLOYES

Harrisburg, July 13.—Governor Pinchot today drew his personal checks to pay employes of the executive department. The payroll was held up in the state treasury for unexplained reasons. State Treasurer Charles A. Snyder being out of the city and office attaches refusing to discuss the situation in his absence. Several other departments payrolls are said to be in the group held up.

Attorney General George W. Woodruff today said that next week it is planned to hold conference with the state's fiscal officers to endeavor to overcome difficulties arising through interpretation of the administration reorganization code

SHE KNEW HER BUSINESS

A fire occurred in a provincial town and occassioned no small amount of excitement. No member of his regular staff of reporters being available at the time, the news editor of the local paper sent the newly engaged society editor to investigate the matter and report.

The following description was handed into the office some hours later:

"A brilliant fire was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sniff in Dash street. A large number of persons were present. Mrs. Sniff, who had recently had her hair bobbed, made a charming escape in a pretty silk blouse, a pattern of which appeared on our woman's page last week. The firemen were becomingly garbed in blue, full cut tunics. The weather was quite delightful for an affair of this kindt. Because of the fire, Mrs. Jones of 360 Dash street, opened her home to Mrs. Snuff and her two charming daughters. The expression was heard on all sides that the affair was a most successful event. It must have cost at least $25.000. Milwaukee Citizen

A. L. GALLUP.
Smethport, July 16, 1923.

A. J. BOND ANNOUNCES THAT HE WILL BE A CANDIDATE FOR CO. COMMISSIONER.

The announcement of A. J. Bond appears in our columns today as a candidate for a second term of county commissioner, which will be noted with enthusiastic interest by a large number of the voters of our county regardless of party, and especially by Republicans, who will be gratified at a second opportunity to nominate Commissioner Bond, as they voted for him four years ago when he first became a candidate.

His business sagacity, training and experience are of special value to our county in directing its affairs, involving hundreds of thousands of dollars a year and the voters have learned by costly and disappointing experiences that they cannot be too careful in the selection of good business men of practical experience and ability to be their business representatives and executives in carrying on the financial and business activities of McKean County.

Mr. Bonds record in the commissioner's office has been a splendid one, he has fully demonstrated what a successful business man can do in public office.

He not only has given much time and energy to the building of improved roads, but has also been fully alert in directing all other lines of his county's business, with his two colleagues in the commissioners office, and at all times his tact and ability have commanded the respect of his associates and the commendation of his constituents.

"Jay" Bond is a McKean county boy, having spent his entire life in its boundaries, born in this county and for a number of years has been a Bradford resident, and is thoroughly familiar with the needs and conditions of our county as a whole.

AMERICA'S BEST BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

June 30 marks the end of the second complete fiscal, or business, year of the federal government since the Harding administration came into power. The following is a summary of some of the most notable business accomplishments of this administration:

Interest-Bearing Public Debt, February 28, 1921 ..... $24,051,684,728.

Interest Bearing Public Debt, June 30, 1923 ..... $22,007,043,611.

Decrease in interest-bearing Public Debt. $2,044,641,117.

The story of the decrease of routine public expenditures (exclusive of public debt and sinking fund) is told in the following:

Fiscal year ending June 30, 1921 (only three months of which were under the Harding administration) $5,115,927,889.

Fiscal year ending June 30, 1922 $3,372,607,899.

Fiscal year ending June 30, 1923 $3,129,418,776.

In other words, the cost of operating the routine department of the government has been slashed $2,000,000,000 a year since the Harding administration came into power.

The cost of operating the government last year, exclusive of public debt and sinking fund, was $243,189,123 less than the 1st fiscal year under the present administration. Notwithstanding this fact, President Harding, at a recent meeting of the department heads, bureau chiefs and other officials connected with the executive branch of the government, insisted that for the fiscal year just beginning th routine expenses should be kept even lower than thy were last year.

At the beginning of the last fiscal year the government faced an estimated deficit of $823,000,000. Due to the rigid economy practiced by executive government agencies the year closed with a surplus of $310,000,000, a difference in favor of the American taxpayers of $1,133,000,000.

The reduction in appropriations made by Republicans since they came into control of Congress are as follows:

Fiscal year ending June30, 1920, $6,454,596,649. Fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, $4,780,829,610. Fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, $4,066,316,366. Fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, $3,940,579,667. Fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, $3,706,777,163.

It should be kept in mind that in these appropriations provision is made for the interest on public debt and for the sinking fund, which item alone amounts to $1,250,000,000 a year. Taking out this item and the appropriationns to the Veterans' Bureau, which amounts to over $400,000,000, it will be seen that the routine expenditures of the government are practically back to a pre-war basis, notwithstanding the fact that practically every department of the government is performing more service than ever bfore in the history of the United States.

Notwithstanding this downward march of appropriations, President Harding has instructed every executive official of the government to reduce still further his request for appropriations to be submitted to the next Congress, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1924.

On March 4, 1921, there were 619,830 civilian employees upon the government payrolls. On March 4, 1923, there were 512,173—a net reduction of 107,657 federal employes in two years of the Harding administration.

When nthe administration came into power, the market quotations for Liberty and Victory bonds averaged approximately $5. Today they are selling at par. There are about $20,000,000,000 of these bonds outstanding, held by between twelve and fifteen million individuals. The 15 per cent gain in their value, therefore, represnts a gain of $3,000,000,000 in two yars, enriching practically one-sixth the population of the United States.

When the Harding administration came into power, there was no arrangement with foreign governments whereby they should pay either the principal or the interest upon the eleven billion dollars dollars borrowed from the United States during the World war. In the last two years a commission was crated by the Congress to effect a settlement of these forign loans. Settlement with Great Britain and Finland has already been effected, involving about 35 per cent of the total foreign loans. Both countries have already made initial payments of principal and interest under terms of the settlement. Negotiations are under way with other countries for the funding of their debts. This accomplishment means the reduction at once in our public debt and the interest thereon—unless future Congresses take the money received from other countries and use it for other purposes.

These outstanding high lights in the two years of the Harding administration justify its being characterized as the best business administration the United States has ever had.

HARDING MEANS BUSINESS IN COMPELLING ECONOMY

One of the last things President Harding did before leaving Washington to start on his long trip was to attend a business meeting of government officals and lay down the law to them as to the matter of expending public money. Taking offical notice of reported attempts on the part of some officals to influence Congress to make larger appropriations than had been recommended by the budget bureau, the President emphatically warned all of them against such activities.

"I did not hesitate", Mr. Harding declared, "to say that arepetition of the acts of a government officer before congressional committees in urging appropriations in excess of the budget's recommendation will be regarded as sufficent reason to cause the giving of consideration to the severance of such officals from government service."

Of course the President had to use the language of dignity and decorum, even in this little family gathering. But what he plainly meant and what every man there doubtless understood, was that if anybody was caught urging Congress to appropriate more money than the budget called for he would be finally and summarily fired.

The President's emphasis in this was doubtless inspired by his experience as a member of Congress. Again and again, for that was the custom in the old days, Senator Harding has doubtless been exasperated by the pertinacity and insistence with which bureau chiefs have assailed Congress demanding big appropriations to be expended under their direction. His chance has come now to hit that bad practice and he has hit it hard.

Another thing that used to be common was for bureau officials to get exceedingly busy about the first of June trying to spend all the money allotted to them for the fiscal year for fear that if Congress found they had not expended their full appropriation they would not be granted so much the next year. It is a striking illustration of the reform of this particular evil that the only man found guilty of trying to put it over this year was promptly discharged from the public service.

Every once in a while we are impelled to remark that what this country has needed in the White House for a long time was a country Editor.—Iola (. Kan.) Register.

QUICK DROP IN PRICE.

"Yes sir" bragged the artist, "I value this painting of mine at $10,000."

"I thank you for your frankness," responded the stranger, "I am the tax assessor."

"At 10,000 from an artist standpoint," went on the artist without a break. "Of course you know, however, that a painting is actually what the materials cost. In this case that would be $2 for canvas and for paints, say sixty cents or $2.60 in all." —Studio.

FIVE COWS POIONED BY EATING SPRAYED GRASS

Arsenical poison used to eradicate weeds and grasses was found to have caused the death of five cows and the serious poisoning of two others that had grazed on sprayed herbage in the road-bed of a trolley line between Reading and Boyertown recently.

The stomach and stomach contents of one of the poisoned cows was immediately sent to the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture for examination by Dr. D. E. Kohler, of Boyertown. Upon anaylsis, State Chemist James W. Kellog found conclusive evidence of arsenical poisoning which substantiated the post-mortem examination of the local veterinarian.

Dr. Kellog, in commenting on the case, stressed the advisability of trolley companies posting notices along the right-of-way when this method is used for eradicating vegation, so that farmers whose livestock may be endangered will have full knowledge of conditions and keep their stock away from the sprayed area.

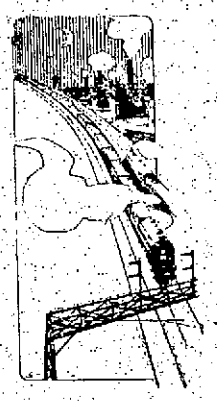
Promoting the General Welfare

1.—Let railroad rates and railroad laws alone for the present. Give the railroads a chance to get on their feet financially before further tightening up on their earnings. Give the Transportation Act of 1920 a more adequate test before determining what revisions—if any—it requires.

2.—Get solidly back of the railroads in carrying out their adequate transportation program of 1923—recognizing the fact that the continued prosperity of the country is dependent upon the successful carrying out of that program.



3.—Give every possible encouragement to the loyal and earnest working forces of the railroads so that they may cooperate in the best and most enthusiastic spirit with the management.

The agricultural, industrial and commercial interests of the country in promoting the general welfare have been invited to take an active part in making this platform effective. With the support of the public it is confidently believed that our railroads, their managers and employes, will be able splendidly and efficiently to perform the vitally important task which has been set for them to do.

DAIRY HINTS

GOOD FEED FOR DAIRY COWS

Abundance of Pasture Grass Is Best Where Available—Some Grain Often Needed.

A dairy cow will respond to good feeding and good treatment, perhaps better than any other farm animal. Each individual dairy cow should be a unit by herself. Unlike other farm animals, dairy cows cannot be efficiently fed in a feed lot, as the requirements for each cow may be different.

The best feed for dairy cows is an abundance of pasture grass when that is available. A good pasture provides a balanced ration. Some high-producing cows will require a little grain as a supplement to pasture.

During the time of the year when a good pasture is not available, a cow can be fed efficiently by providing: 1, An abundance of palatable feed; 2, a balanced ration; 3, succulent feed; 4, a moderate temperature in barn; 5, comfortable surroundings.

A dairy cow is fed for the following purposes: 1, For maintaining the body; 2, to supply material for milk; 3, for development of fetus; 4, for growth of animal, if immature; 5, at times to produce gain in weight.

Three general classes of good material are required for feeding cows: 1, Protein or nitrogenous material; 2, carbohydrates and fat to supply heat and energy; 3, ash or mineral matter.

A well-balanced dairy ration will contain the above food material in the proper proportions. In making up a feed for dairy cows, it is usually most convenient to balance the roughage and concentrates separately and then feed all the roughage each cow will eat and adjust the grain mixture to the amount of milk or butterfat produced by the cow.

A good general rule to use as a guide in feeding is to feed from one-fourth to one-half as much of a balanced grain mixture per day as the cow gives milk per day. Cows giving rich milk usually give less per day, but need a little more grain in proportion to the milk.—A. C. Baer, Professor of Dairying, Oklahoma A. and M. College.

SIMPLE METHOD TO DEHORN

Easiest Way to Avoid Trouble With Wild Bunch Is to Perform Task While Young.

The easiest way to avoid the expense and trouble of dehorning a bunch of wild and more or less unmanageable young cattle every spring is to do the job while they are baby calves and easily handled.

When the calf is three to ten days old, small buttons can be felt under the skin where the horns are to be. With a pair of shears trim away the hair around these buttons and then rub them with a stick of moistened caustic potash. Continue rubbing until there is a raw spot the size of a bean at the horn tip. Be careful not to get so much water on the caustic that it will run down the side of the face and produce burns. To protect the fingers, wrap the stick in paper or insert in a rubber tube. Some men protect the calf from unnecessary burns by smearing grease around the horn outside of where the caustic is to be.

Caustic (potassium hydroxide) may be obtained at any drug store and ten cents' worth is enough to deborn a dozen calves.

TREATING FOR CALF SCOURS

Whenever Indications of Ailment Appear Milk Supply Should Be Reduced One-Half.

When a calf shows signs of the scours, the milk supply should be reduced one-half and the amount gradually increased as the calf shows signs of improvement. This usually will cure them, but if it does not, feed about a tablespoon of soluble dried blood, and stir in well with the milk. Dried blood not only acts as a tonic, but it has some food value, and is often fed, even when calves do not have the scours.

DO NOT RAISE DAIRY CALVES

Many Dairymen Prefer to Market Milk on Account of Good Demand—Feed Cost High.

Many dairymen do not raise their heifer calves because their market for milk is so good that they feel they cannot spare any for the calf, and do not care to fuss with substitutes. Others believe that the cost of feed and help is so high that it costs more to raise a dairy heifer than her equivalent can be bought for on the open market in another community, where feed and help are lower.

FEED SILAGE AFTER MILKING

Odor Carried Through Cow Into Milk Very Readily—Gives Butter Undesirable Taste.

Feed silage or other succulent feed after, not shortly before or while milking. The odor is carried through the body of the cow into the milk very readily and later develops in the manufactured butter as a fruity and undesirable flavor.

DAIRY

FAILURE IN DAIRY BUSINESS

Greatest Factor to Success Is the Man Himself—He Must Like Cows and Care for Them.

Failure in the dairy business is due to one of three things:

1. The business itself.
2. The cow.
3. The man.

The business is sound. This is shown largely by the fact that the income derived from the dairy business is larger than the income derived from all other classes of live stock on the farm combined.

The cow must be a good cow, one that can return a good labor income to her owner.

But the greatest factor to success in the dairy business is the man.

He must know his good cows and not guess which are his good ones.

He must be a dairyman, and like cows, like to work with them and like to care for them. He must not be in the dairy business just in order to pay off that grocery bill contracted when he had no use for cows.

He must remember that the fundamental basis of the dairy business lies in the maternity of the dairy cow.

He must know how to feed profitably and apply that knowledge and to feed only cows that can return a profit.

He must use a good purebred bull to keep up the future quality of his herd.

He must know how to work and apply that knowledge.—Harold B. Lascelles, Fieldman, State Dairy Commission.

TREATMENT OF CALF SCOURS

Cut Feed One-Half Until Animal Becomes Hungry, Then Give Dose of Castor Oil.

To treat a case of scours, cut the feed to half or even less than that until the calf has become hungry. A dose of one to three ounces of castor oil or paraffin oil will help to clean out the animal and may well be given. Three parts of formalin in a hundred parts of water, added to the milk at the rate of a teaspoonful to the pound of milk will sometimes relieve the trouble. Another very satisfactory treatment is to add about four to five drops of fluid extract of gelsemium to about one ounce of paraffin or castor oil and give it to the calf before each feeding of milk. It is always advisable to reduce the milk to a half or a third and divide that reduced quantity into from two to four feedings a day.

KEEP ALL HEIFERS GROWING

Young Animals Are Unduly Neglected by Many Dairymen—Feed Silage and Legume Hay.

Returns get our attention. Possibly for this reason the heifer calves are unduly neglected. But this stock should be kept growing normally. With silage and clover or alfalfa hay, one should feed each heifer from two to five pounds of farm-grown grains per day. If no silage is available, feed two pounds of corn daily with all the clover or alfalfa hay the heifers will consume. With silage and no legume hay, a good ration consists of a portion of silage and fodder or mixed hay with a grain mixture consisting of equal parts of corn and linseed meal.

FALL AND SPRING CALVING

Three Years' Test Conducted by Mississippi Expert to Determine Advantages.

Results of three years' work to determine the advantages of spring and fall calving with dairy cattle, made by J. S. Moore of the Mississippi experiment station, show that cows calving in the fall produced an average of 172 pounds of milk and 18.4 pounds of butterfat more than cows calving in the spring. In a comparison of early and late fall calving the average difference per year per cow was 683 pounds of milk and 27.5 pounds of butterfat in favor of late fall calving.

NEEDFUL MINERALS IN FEED

Most Lime Contained in Legume Hays, While Phosphorus Is Found in Bran and Middlings.

The common dairy feeds containing the most lime are the legume hays, cowpea, clover, alfalfa and soy bean, that from cowpeas containing the most. Those which contain the most phosphorus are wheat bran, wheat middlings and linseed meal in the order given. None of the concentrates contain as much lime as the legumes do, and no roughage contains as much phosphorus as the concentrates named.

Benefits From Cow Testing.

Cow testing increases the average production of the dairy herd, first, by eliminating all low-producing cows, and second, by enabling one to select the foundation animals for his herd on the basis of performance.

Feed Silage to Calves.

Calves may be fed silage in connection with skim milk as soon as they are old enough to eat it. They will begin taking a little silage at three weeks old, and they can be fed from then on as much as they will eat.

DAIRY HINTS

DAIRY LESSONS IN SCHOOLS

Bulletin on Production and Handling of Milk Issued for the Benefit of Teachers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Methods of producing and handling milk so that it will be clean may be taught in schools, as well as other features of farm practice. For the benefit of teachers in farm communities, the United States Department of Agriculture has a bulletin on the use of Farmers' Bulletin 602, "Production of Clean Milk," as a textbook.

Topics of study in connection with it are the reasons why cleanliness is important; first, to the consumer, because of its effect on the wholesomeness of milk as food; and second, the producer, because of its influence on the financial value of milk; bacteria and their effect on milk; health of cattle and human handlers of milk; disposal of waste; how to combat flies; style and care of dairy utensils; stable and milk houses; the process of milking, and subsequent care of the milk. As a preliminary to the lessons, a survey of conditions in the locality is advised, and suggestions for it are offered. Geography and arithmetic are studied in their bearing upon the dairy business; and written work on the subject can be used as language study. The bulletin which gives suggestions on teaching the subject is Department Circular 67.

SUPPLY DRY COW GOOD FEED

Many Men Make Big Mistake in Neglecting Animal During Her Resting Period.

The question of feeding a dry cow is one of the many important factors in successful dairying. Many men make the mistake of paying little or no attention to the cow while she is dry, the idea being that so long as she is not producing, it is a waste of money to keep on feeding her nearly as well as when she is producing. While a cow should not be given as heavy grain ration when dry as when she is producing, at the same time during the six or eight weeks while she is resting from her heavy work of production she needs to keep her body in vigorous condition. She should, in fact, always gain in weight during that period and should be fed such feeds as will enable her to produce a well-developed calf.

KEEP MILK MACHINES CLEAN

Thorough Sterilization Is Necessary to Prevent Any Source of Contamination.

Special care is required to keep milking machines clean so that they will not be a source of contamination for the milk that passes through them. After many tests the United States Department of Agriculture has decided that the best method that is the use of hot water at a temperature of 160 to 170 degrees F.—is much better for sterilization than solutions such as chlorin or salt and chlorin. The salt-chlorin solution was found to be no better than the chlorin solution.

MANY PURE-BRED HOLSTEINS

During Year of 1922 Registration Made of 113,772 Animals, According to Census.

Last year 113,772 registrations were made of pure-bred Holsteins, and 91,880 transfers. During the year 1,440 new members were admitted to the association, making a total of 28,000. Over a million Holsteins have been registered. Of that number 528,000 are living, according to the United States census.

HANDSOME PROFIT FROM COW

Dairy Animal on Any Farm Will Pay Her Purchase Price in Milk In Six Months.

There is absolutely no good reason why there shouldn't be at least one good dairy cow on every farm. One good animal would pay her purchase price in milk inside of six months and for a good many years would continue to pay a handsome profit over her maintenance cost to her owner.

LESS SUBJECT TO BLOATING

Growers of Sweet Clover Claim Cows Not as Liable to Trouble as Alfalfa.

It is claimed by the growers of sweet clover that cows that are pasturing on it are less subject to bloat than when pastured on alfalfa. It is felt that there is a certain something in the sweet clover that tends to overcome bloating.

Many Cows Tested.

Farmers last year entered over 194,000 cows in cow-testing associations to determine their standing as butterfat producers through demonstrations by agricultural extension workers, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Prefer Bran to Shorts.

Dairymen prefer bran to shorts for feeding because it is lighter and improves the mechanical make-up of a mixture of meal.

Rev. J. R. Duffield, pastor of the Congregational church officiated.

Miss Ruth Cantwell, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, while Mrs. Donald Goodwin of Hartford, Conn., was matron of honor. George Gillies of Maplewood, N. J. was best man.

The bride was charmingly attained in a gown of white, flat crepe with crystal beading. She wore a bridal veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The matron of honor wore orchid Georgette Crepe. The bridesmaid's costume was of orchid crepe-de-chine.

The bride, one of Malone's most worthy young women, is a graduate of Franklin Academy and Ithaca Conservatory of Music. She held the position of supervisor of music in the Public schools of Pleasantville, N. J.

Mr. Farnham is still known in Smethport, a graduate of Cornell University and a member of the New York Bar. He occupies a responsible position with Kenific, Cook and Bass, a prominent Buffalo law firm.

After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Farnham will be at home in Buffalo, to their many friends. The heartiest wishes of the Miner go with the happy couple that their wedded life may bring them increased happiness and prosperity.

SAWYER HIGHWAY WILL BE OPEN IN TWENTY-ONE DAYS.

At noon today the work of laying the cement on the Sawyer City road was completed, this piece of 19,600 feet being finished in just two months time, which is a record breaker in the state of Pennsylvania. The work was started just exactly two months ago today and the workmen have hurried up the job so that the road could be put into use, as this is one of the most important connecting links in the country. Those who have directed the work are more than delighted that the job of laying the cement was finished in the shortest time of any job in the state.

The road is improved by means of public subscriptions from residents of Bradford and its ieinity, the money being used under the direction of the Bradford Automobile club for the laying of the materials, which were provided by the state highway department. The repaying of the Sawyer City pike eliminates one of the worst pieces of old macadam road in the county, and connects up our trunk line system with an 18-foot highway, and now gives local motorists 24 miles of pavement from Bradford to Kasson, via Smethport.

This leaves only eight miles of dirt road between Bradford and Kane, the stretch of earth road lying between Kasson and Mt. Jewett.

The new piece of cement on the Sawyer road will be closed 21 days so that it can have a chance to harden and then will be thrown open for use. The opening of the road will be hailed with delight all over the country, as it is one of the most utilized roads in this entire section.—Star-Record July 17.

KANE VOLUNTEERS PUT FIRE BELL ON BLACK LIST.

Kane, Pa., July 16.—It is said that if the borough fire bell were to ring just now it wouldn't break up a single poker game or interrupt a single game of Kelly fifteen ball pool. At any rate, no member of the Kane volunteer fire department would respond if they stick to their announced ultimatum.

The volunteers brought the George L. Dobyn carnival show to Kane to raise funds for the department exchequer. There were the usual fruit "stores," candy "stores," miniature racetracks, roll-downs, etc., which are claimed by the showmen to be a necessary part of the complement of a carnival. Members of the Ministerial association met, considered the situation and the arrest of Dobyn charge with operating gambling devices resulted.

The carnival proprietor was arraigned before Peace Justice Bunce and held in $2000 bail. The Rev. F. M. Hall, the Rev. D. T. Anderson and the Rev. J. A. McCamey were named as being the complainants. Following the arraignment of Dobyn, the volunteers staged a downtown demonstration and then gave formal notices that they would not again turn out to answer an alarm until the charge against the carnival man had been withdrawn.

The fire bell has been fortunately stilled since the feud began. Any outbreak of fire at this time might have excessively disastrous results. The ministers show no signs of relenting in their prosecution of Dobyn. The volunteers, on the other hand, declare that, like the days of the Civil war, "they'll stick it out along these lines if it takes all summer."

BURY STABBING VICTIM; HOLD ALLEGED SLAYER.

Olean, N. Y., July 16.—Funeral services for Nell R. Bryant, 24 years old, of 526 First avenue, who died Thursday morning from a knife wound in the left thigh, after he was stabbed near the Greenwood dance hall, in East State street, were held at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bryant of 409 Fourth street at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Rev. A. Frank Houser of the First Baptist church officiating. Burial was in Crystal, Pa.

Manslaughter, first degree, will probably be the charge placed against Jimmie Malise, 19 years old, of Chicago, a blacksmith helper in the Olean shops of the Pennsylvania railroad, who was arrested after the stabbing. He is now in the county jail in Little Valley, and he will not have a preliminary examination until today.
